IS DIY INVESTING REALLY WORTH THE RISK?

DIY investing is gaining traction. It is flexible, low cost, and gives you control. But what happens when markets get rough? Can you stay rational and consistent when your portfolio is in the red? Rajeev Thakkar, Director and CIO at PPFAS Asset Management, unpacks what every investor should know before going solo. From strategy to psychology, he brings clarity to a space often driven by noise. This is a must attend session for those who want to take charge of their money the smart way.
